

TENESO Italy 'top and tail' their warehousing infrastructure with new depot in Southern Italy

The TENESO Europe SE strategically located network of depots have grown with the announcement of a new 1000 sq metre warehouse in Bari, Southern Italy. Located on the top of Italy's heel, it helps to consolidate and strengthen the service offering in Italy by some margin.

Giulio Chiaia, MITSAFETRANS operations director says, "It's quite simple really. We used to service the very south of Italy via Naples and would cover the territory only 2 /3 days per week. Not only can we reach the Bari area from our International hub in Milan more quickly, we are now there every day. We believe passionately that our service to this area is unrivalled"

He adds, "We have been growing organically for some time so the time was right in our development to make this investment to not only enlarge but also to optimise our network for high tech and dangerous goods. Quality and security still comes as standard as all of our warehouses have ISO 9001:2008, ISO 13485:2004 & OHSAS 18001:2007"

TENESO Europe SE has access to over 500 warehouses in Europe of exceptionally high standard that meets the ever increasing and diverse needs of its market segments.
